ODE to the SENIORS

O class of '50, our hearts ache, and a numbness
 Pains our senses. The sparkling rays
 Of a setting sun are splashing shadows
 On the by-gone years.
 Memories, aching, nostalgic surge up
 Within us. Recollections of the care-free
 Days of glorious youth, the years
 We shared together.
 But look! Behold! The shadows pass.
 One ray, especially bright and clear
 Silhouettes against the deepening dusk
 Ye, O class of '50.
 Ye, who stand together, bidding
 Us a fond farewell, as ye prepare
 For the long journey ahead.
 O Heavenly Muses! Smile upon them.
 Be not scornful! Be not mocking!
 Make their trip a joyous one,
 Full of love, laughter, happiness.
 Yet, be firm, O Muses! Make it
 Not a trifling thing, the road ahead.
 Teach them that the joys of life
 Be not begotten without tears.
 Let them be sometimes fearful,
 For fear is oftentimes as a beacon
 From a lighthouse.
 Yet let them be not afraid!
 Guide them with a gentle, firm
 Hand, O Muses!
 Let them not, exhausted, falter by the
 Wayside. Not in this, their greatest journey--
 The journey of Life!

Mary Lee Moore

Class Song

We the class of 1950, do
Pledge our loyalty to you
To N. G. our school so dear
Which we will cherish more each year.

Through the years we've strived to reach our aim
All our lives we'll do the same
Ever, onward, upward climb
With open, ever-growing minds.

Chorus
Honor, fame, and glory you deserve
And from your teachings we will never swerve
In our hearts there'll always be
Loyalty to dear N. G.

Class History

We, the Senior Class of 1949-50 started our school career in the autumn of 1938. Through these twelve years, fifteen of the fifty beginners have remained together to become the present seniors. They are Maggie Amick, Doris Arrington, Bill Clapp, Dot Dalrymple, Ethel Garrett, Jaynee Greeson, Johnnie Greeson, Mary Hemphill, Lorena Levens, Betty May, Edward Reitzel, Donnie Shoe, Gene Shoffner, Ernest Smith, Patsy Staley. For the last few weeks of our first year, Clarsie Jenkins joined us to make the fifty-first pupil.

Miss Richardson is responsible for the first of the twelve notches which we had to climb. We think she did a wonderful job and can look back and appreciate the things she did for us, although at the time we thought standing on one knee was an unbalanced method of punishment for misbehavior. We owe our thanks to her unlimited patience with a group of a few bright and many dumb pupils.

Much to the sorrow of the second grade students, we received word that our school had burned just a few weeks before time for school to open. After about two weeks delay we began our second year of school in a two room abandoned negro school house called Beulah. It was Miss Cadell's job this year to try to keep us "naughty brats" in a straight line. Those good "ole" days, we'll never forget. It so happened that Doris Moore came and joined in our reading and writing and 'rithmetic thrills that year.

The next year we came back to our old school grounds but like the other grades we had our classes in the "gym". Due to the large enrollment our class was divided. The larger portion remained with Miss Thompson who is now Mrs. Deviney and the others went to Miss Farlow's room. This was the year when we added Leona Coble, Audry May, and Mark Lyerly to our roll.

With the thoughts of being promoted to the fourth grade, we also had the thrill of beginning school in a new building. Our grade was still divided. Miss Edith Causey had the large part and Mrs. Farlow had the same few which she had the year before. This was the year Nancy Lambert and Roy Garrett came into the picture.

Next came the fifth grade with Miss Weathers teaching the same few and Mrs. Stuart teaching the other grade. Nellie Sullivan joined us in this grade.

We entered the sixth grade with Miss Walker as the teacher of the same few and Mrs. Stafford had the larger group to teach.

It was the same story in the seventh grade except that Miss Stafford became teacher of the large group and Miss Walker remained with the same group she had taught the year before.

A new story began in the eighth grade because the two groups were reunited. Mrs. Redmon and then Mrs. Gibbs both taught a few weeks each, and finally we succeeded in securing a permanent teacher for the year, Mr. Hinshaw. Hazel O'Briant and Annie Ruth Linville joined our group this year.

When we entered high school we sure thought we were "big ones". This was the first year that five subjects were required. Mrs. Redmon was our home room teacher and she also taught the girls home economics. Mr. Holt taught civics and mathematics and Mr. Utley taught health and physical education. Harold Flinchum and Gene Frazier joined us this year. Mary Hemphill was elected president of our class. We were all very proud of Clarsie Jenkins and Roy Garrett who received basketball suits that year.

The following year, which was our second year in high school, Miss Cole was our home room teacher. She also taught us English, Mr. Holt taught us algebra, Mr. Knight biology, and Mrs. Redmon taught second year home economics. We began to realize the importance of making money, because we had the responsibility of giving the Junior-Senior banquet the following year. During this year, Delano Shepherd was our class president. Miss Cole aided us in selecting our class colors, which are green and white, and our motto, which is "B<sup>2</sup>". (Be Square.)

Our Junior Year was important because we gave the banquet and also the Junior Play, "Are You Kidding?". The banquet was held at the Alamance Hotel in Burlington. Mr. Holt was our home room teacher. He taught us "American History" and Mr. Suits taught us English. Mr. Ford started us off in French but Mrs. Griffin finished the year. Mrs. Redmon taught us our last year in home economics. Our class officers for the year were: President, Mark Lyerly; Vice-President, Doris Arrington; Secretary, Doris Moore; Treasurer, Johnnie Greeson.

Finally, after eleven years of hard work, nineteen girls and eight boys reached the last of the twelve notches they must climb in order to become a senior. At the beginning of the year we elected Mark Lyerly as President, Betty May as vice-president; Mary Hemphill as secretary, Jaynee Greeson as treasurer. Miss Swaim, our home room teacher, directed the Senior Play, "Hobgoblin House". This year we are taking French, English, chemistry, geometry, economics, and agriculture. We have been working on our annual, "The Greene Leaf" and our newspaper, "The Greene Herald". We are hoping to make enough money to go to Washington. This year the Juniors are giving us a Valentine's Day Banquet. It is to be held at Meyer's Tea Room in Greensboro on February 17, 1950.

Class Poem

Not just a phrase of conclusions
Or jesty words to seem amusing,
But, an inventory of sincerity.
We, here, express our thoughts in clarity.

Long may the twelve steps seem
But just a mere portion of an upward dream.
Work and study as we might
'Twas only an obligated fight.

The best of apprehension has been deserved
As has been granted and not reserved.
Let yet, happiness and friendship continue,
Without schedule or requested menu.

Class poet,
Betty May

Beta Club

The Beta club was started three years ago, and we hope it will continue.

The National Beta Club is a leadership service organization for high school students. Its purpose is to stimulate effort, reward achievement and to encourage and assist its members to continue their education after high school.

The qualifications for an individual to become a member are based on: (a) good mentality and character, (b) creditable achievement, and (c) commendable attitude. Prospective members must be approved of by the principal. The grade average is determined by the principal also. The student must average 85 or above to become a member.

Our Beta Club has planned to furnish a room with first-aid supplies; we are also planning to appoint a committee to inspect the high school rooms.

When you join the Beta Club the membership fee is $3.00. Some of the membership credentials are: (1) certificate of membership, (2) membership card, (3) an official emblem, (4) individual subscription to monthly copies of the Beta Club Journal while in high school, (5) program material for meetings, (6) miscellaneous supplies (stickers, etc.), (7) the right to attend regional and State conventions, (8) a gold seal of honor for high school diploma, (9) college guidance information, if requested, (10) the opportunity of college assistance through the Beta education fund.

The colors of the Beta Club are Old Gold and Black. These colors are carried out through all of the material.

The motto of the Beta Club is "Ducamus Allis serviendo" or "Let us lead by serving others."

Class Prophecy

Good evening ladies and gentlemen! This is station N.G.H.S. broadcasting from the auditorium of Nathanael Greene High School. We are gathered here on this day of January 23, 1950 to look into the future ten years. In other words, we are going to prophesy the works of every senior of 1950 ten years from now. 1960 here we come!

We see Maggielene Amick as a happily married woman. Jim Bouldin made the plans for their home in Ramseur and it was completed the winter of 1950. Hazel O'Briant and Robert Poe are living only two blocks away from them.

Ethel Garrett is filing insurance at Jefferson Standard Life Insurance in Greensboro. Donnie Shoe is also working in Greensboro. She is head operator of day duty at Bell Telephone System. She and Ethel have an apartment together.

Doris Moore and Mary Dot Dalrymple, after completing their business courses at Burlington Business College, were married in double ceremony. Dot married her boss man. And listen to this, Patsy Staley has a 1960 Oldsmobile and is having a beautiful home erected on the Greensboro High Point Road.

Nellie Sullivan is a doctor's assistant at Bowman Grey Hospital.

Lorena Levens made that great upward step. She is now teaching piano at Guilford County consolidated schools.

Gene Frazier is part owner of Burlington Mills, Inc. where he is textile engineer. He has come a long way since graduation from High School.

Leona Coble is working hard in her own tailor shop located in Cobleville, five miles north of Julian.

Audry May has moved the store up to Welker's Crossroads, on the Kimesville-Greensboro road, where it has become a self-service grocery, a great need of the community.

Edward Reitzel had his first art exhibition last October, 1959. It was a great success. He and Bill Clapp are seeing a lot of each other in Chicago where Bill is playing center field for the Chicago Redwings.

Nancy Lambert is now one of the top-notch night-club singers in America. Crowds at the Astor Roof, where she is now playing, are breaking all records. We hear that the movies are making a bid for Nancy's talent - both as singer and actress. Nancy has realized her high school ambition in terrific fashion.

Jayne Greeson and Charles Brown are a happily married couple now. They have their own beautiful home, two little boys, and a flower shop, where Jaynee is now the secretary.

Talking about marriage, Doris Arrington and Tommy York were married in 1952 and are living near Liberty. They have a little girl with long natural curls just like her mama's.

Roy Garrett has his own shoe store in Julian and Ernest Smith is running Smith's Dairy in Kimesville.

Mark Lyerly is coaching basketball at Lenior Rhyne College.

Clarise Jenkins, our high scorer of 48-49, 49-50, is also in the basketball field. She is coaching basketball at Liberty High School.

Johnnie Lee Greeson is still around having a good time. She is chairman of entertainment at the Greene Township Community Center. They tell me she has some swell square dances held there.

I musn't forget Gene Shoffner and Harold Flinchum by all means. They were two great jokes. So full of life. Harold is out West tending his oil wells and (you guessed it) making lots of money. Gene is president of Kimesville Ford Motor Company and he owns half of Kimesville Lake. That certainly is a nice place of entertainment. People from all over the county come there in the summer.

Betty May and Annie Ruth Linville are nursing at LaGuardia Field Air Base Hospital. And believe me they are really working hard. Betty didn't even get to go home for Christmas.

Mary Hemphill is writing magazine articles for "Better Homes and Gardens" and "Ladies Home Journal". She also has a column in the "Julian Times". Yes, Mary is married and very happy, too.

And now our time is about up. These prophecies may or may not come true, but if they should or the majority of them should, no graduating class would ever be more pleased than we ourselves. But, we don't all expect to reach the highest goal.

Here is to us "the best of luck".

Nancy Lee Lambert

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1950, of Nathanael Greene High School, having reached the end of our High School days, being sound of mind and body, do hereby declare this our Last Will and Testament.

ARTICLE I

We leave with our parents our gratefulness and sincere appreciation for their encouragement and faith in our ability to finish the task they started us in. We now feel that it is a job well done, thanks to them.

ARTICLE II

To our faculty - for the ever patient and understanding teachers of the primary and grammar grades, who spent many trying times with us, we have a deep gratuitous feeling of a foundation well laid.

To Miss Swaim we leave our new and hardly soiled literature books with the disappointment that we didn't learn to love "MacBeth" as she does.

With Mr. Garrett we leave our ragged and completed chemistry books and the desperate pleading that no one else shall have "The Burden" to carry.

To Mr. Holt, "Bless his poor heart", we leave all the remaining high school to keep him in good humor.

With the teachings of Mr. and Mrs. Redmon we leave the assurance that we will all make good housewives and farmers.

To Mr. Hinshaw we leave our regrets that we did not always adhere to his sound advice. But, Mr. Hinshaw, "Hope springs eternal within the human breast," and perhaps in later life your advice will see us through.

ARTICLE III

Our friends and supporters of the school, although there were times that we feared you were letting us down you never did; we bestowe upon you the best of wishes and thanks for your assistance in financial and moral support.

ARTICLE IV

We leave our gratitude to Charlie Comer for keeping our school clean and warm. Through sunshine, rain, sleet, and snow --- he's on the job.

ARTICLE V

Twenty-seven contented yet heavy hearts, beating faster as each minute nears the last to be spent in our dear school, leave it with the desire that it will be bettered each year.

Last Will and Testament

ARTICLE VI

Doris and Maggie will their amazing ability to wrap a man around their finger to Carolyn Slawter.

Clarsie and Annie Ruth leave their outstanding ability to play basketball to Patricia Staley. Edward leaves his excellent drawing talent with Wade Garrett.

Lorena leaves her desk to her brother, David.

Doris wills her heighth and neat bangs to Dotty Blackard.

Roy wills his "Jitterbuggin" feet to Ralph Wilson and his morning smoke to Bill Staley.

Johnnie wills her small figure to Betty Jo Brower.

Mary wills her long black hair to Mary Lee Moore.

Patsy bestowes her mischevious behavior upon Pearl Coble and hopes she has as much fun in school as she did.

Jaynee hopes that Sara Ruth Noah will use the frank sincereness on all styles, make-up and etc. that she leaves her.

Gene and Harold wonder if there are any two junior boys who can take over their many pranks, jokes, horse laughs, and "he-mannish" nature of good humor.

Ethel leaves her ever-lasting patience with Gene and Harold to Modine Greeson.

Mary Dot wills her ability to do algebra to Delano Lambert.

Nellie leaves her french and chemistry books to anyone who is lucky enough to get them and make good of them.

Ernest leaves his love for farmall tractors to Odell Hyatt.

Audry wills her glasses to Annie Lee Clapp, so that she may see through French.

Leona wills her quiet timid ways to Billie Sullivan.

Hazel wills her basketball suit to Joan Coble and hopes she can fill it as she did.

Nancy leaves her desk to anyone who will promise not to erase anything written on it, and her cheer leader skirt to Delano Lambert.

Mark leaves his calm personality on the basketball court to Bill Shaw.

Betty leaves her cooperative school spirit with all the juniors and hopes they will take advantage of it.

Bill leaves his winning personality to Connie Woodard.

Gene Frazier wills his ability for filibustering to any of next year's geometry students.

Donnie leaves her appreciation with her classmates, schoolmates, and the members of the faculty for encouraging her to complete her high school course.

To the Juniors, we Seniors, wish to leave any boxes of cards we might have left at the end of the year and hope they have luck enough to sell them - plus the ability to publish an annual.
